Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of Brookline:

I herewith submit my twelfth annual report, which is also the twelfth in the series of such reports.

Organization of Supervisory Union No. 40

No change has been made since the Union was formed in 1919. It still comprises Amherst, Brookline, Milford and Mont Vernon, with joint expenses divided respectively as follows: 25%, 10%, 60%, and 5%. This means that Brookline pays $190 towards the Superintendent's salary and $80 on account of administrative expenses including the office clerk.

Instruction

The plan of maintaining two rooms at the Primary building and one at the Daniels Academy Building is being continued. Mrs. Bennett is serving her third year at the Grammar room. Miss Mouseley and Miss Pingree did not accept re-election to the Intermediate and Primary rooms. Their places have been taken by Miss Olive Baker of Raymond, and Miss Madeline Waegeneere of Manchester. Both are Normal School graduates, and both have had teaching experience.

For the last few years Brookline has had trained and experienced teachers and has succeeded in keeping them for more than one year. This has been due to adequate salaries and to the factors that make for the contentment of teachers, namely, suitable books and supplies, a pleasant school room properly heated and lighted, and good boarding places. These things have been secured without undue expenditure and can be maintained without excessive burden as is shown by the fact that for last year the cost of schools in Brookline per $1000 of equalized valuation was $7.65, there being but 61 districts in the state with a lower cost and 182 higher. Furthermore the cost per pupil for Brookline was $82.87 against a state average of about $84.00. The factor of greatest importance is always the teacher, hence it is wise to pay sufficient salaries to secure and retain good teachers.

During the year the Superintendent has presented several sets of stereopticon slides to the pupils together with descriptive talks. The subjects have included birds, wild flowers and geographical material. These illustrated talks will be continued from time to time, the purpose being to instruct the children in worthwhile things and not just to entertain them. Visitors are always welcome.

The Parent-Teacher Association

This organization which has been in existence for some years has been quite active during the past year. Meetings have been held monthly including one or two occasions with a program for pupils. The Superintendent has been able to be present at some of the gatherings and has enjoyed meeting with parents of the children. There is no better way to know about schools than to be an active member in an organization concerned with schools and to visit schools and class rooms frequently, in order to know better the problems of the schools and of the teachers and thus to be able to give valuable assistance and support.

For another year this Brookline unit might like to join the State association by affiliation and thus secure out of town speakers. Should a year's program be prepared in advance, mimeographed copies can easily be made in the Superintendent's office.

School Population and Enrollment

Reference to the census reports of 1929 and 1930 shows a decrease in the number enumerated from 105 to 81 and from 87 registered in school to 69. Probabilities are that the number of school pupils will further decrease so that the present accommodations will be ample for some time to come. The table below gives exact conditions.

ATTENDANCE

As a matter of record it may be well to state that during the school year 1929-1930 the Primary room registered 32 pupils and averaged a percentage of attendance of 94.51; figures for the Intermediate room were 37 pupils and 95.67% of attendance; for the Grammar room 29 pupils and 96.21%; with an average percentage of attendance for all schools of 95.46. This record is much better than that of the previous year. Tardinesses however are excessive and a concerted effort should be made to decrease this item. The attendance law requires that all pupils shall be present during the whole session which means that tardiness is contrary to legal requirements.

Improvement of Grounds and Buildings

During the summer the Grammar room was entirely renovated including refinishing of desks and walls, new lighting fixtures, and a display rail. These improvements together with the addition of three new maps have made this room very attractive indeed. Also a cement walk was built from the school side door to the front entrance of the building. This does away with unsightly paths across the new lawn and adds much to the convenience and looks of the grounds.

At the Primary building the schoolyard has been further improved by a cement walk from the street to the entrance, by the installation of strong and durable swings and teeter-boards, and by an extension of the ventilating system of the building. All these improvements are in accordance with the plans for which funds were voted last March.

Suggestions for the coming year are as follows:

1. Ventilating shaft from the Grammar room through to the roof of the building.
2. Repairs to floor of porch at side entrance to Academy building.
3. Addition of play ground equipment at the Grammar school.
4. Addition of more shelves in the book and supply room.
5. Shingling north side of primary building.

High School

Year by year more and more children are going beyond Grammar school so that now a diploma from high school is the common ideal in New Hampshire. There are over 4000 more pupils enrolled in secondary schools in New Hampshire now than ten years ago, even though the population of the state is nearly stationary.

The cause of this increase is primarily the fact that at least a high school education is all important for persons to make the most of themselves. Contributing causes are better roads for transportation, more practical courses offered in high schools, better preparation in elementary schools, and a greater desire by parents to send their children.

In Brookline, there has been a steady increase in ten years until this last year a large proportion of the class graduating from Grammar School started high school at Nashua or Milford. A convenient opportunity was provided this last fall by combining a high school transportation route to Milford with the elementary north route to Brookline on the return trip. This plan can be continued if there is a demand. Tuition is paid by the district; transportation is the only cost to parents. If it is possible to afford it and a pupil has the ability, no parents should permit a child to drop out for petty reasons. Such cases always end with "I am sorry that I did not go through high school; I wish my folks had made me stick to it."

In conclusion we may well sum up the object of schools in the words of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., "Every ambitious self-respecting individual wants to make a living. But in this money-mad age we do well to remind ourselves that after all the real purpose of our existence is not to make a living but to make a life, a worthy, well-rounded and useful life. In the long run, therefore, anything that defeats that purpose is not worth the cost."

Report of School Nurse

To Mr. Harold C. Bales, Superintendent of Schools, Brookline, N H.:

The following is my fourth report of the health work in the Brookline Schools, it being the eleventh year of this work.

The annual medical inspection was made in October by Dr. Dearborn, the Nurse assisting. A tabulated account of this inspection will appear on another page.

The eye and ear tests have been completed. The results show nine children to have defective vision and one with a slight defect in hearing.

Twenty visits were made to the schools at which time class room inspections and short talks on personal health were given. Special attention and some follow up work has been given to individual children. There have been a few cases of contagious disease in the schools. At that time the schools were closed for a short time. Since then the general health of the children has been good.

I wish to express my appreciation to the school officials, teachers, pupils, and parents for their cooperation in the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

Emma L. Smith, R. N.
